Two Montana Lawyers To Get Honorary Degrees

Two Montana lawyers will receive honorary Doctor of Law degrees at commencement ceremonies June 9.

William L. Murphy, Missoula, and William J. Jameson, Billings, are the two who will receive the degrees.

Mr. Murphy, a Missoula attorney and banker, attended his first two years at MSU, and was one of the first students to register when it opened in 1898. Immediately after he received his law degree from Columbia university in 1900, he returned to Missoula and began practicing law. In 1909, he became assistant Montana attorney-general.

Mr. Murphy has been chairman of the Western Montana National Bank since 1944 and has also served as director, vice-president, and president of that firm. Since 1935 he has been a director of the Montana Power company.

Mr. Murphy gave freely of his time and energy when the University was in need of legal counsel, and also has given financial and personal support to various endeavors through the years," the University faculty said recommending him for an honorary degree.

Mr. Jameson will receive his honorary doctorate on the faculty's recognition that "his warm interest in University affairs) has not waned in the 30 years since graduation. He is a trustee of the University Endowment foundation and is a life member of the MSU Alumni association of which he was president longer than anyone else—from 1925 to 1928. His willingness to help the University in various ways is shown by his consenting to serve as a trustee of the Stella Duncan Memorial fund."

Mr. Jameson received a bachelor of arts degree here in 1919 and a law degree in 1922. He served as state representative from 1927 to 1930. He has been a member of the American Bar association since 1936 and has held executive posts in that organization since 1942.

He is also a member of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State laws, of the American Law institute, and of the American Judicature society. At present he practices law in Billings and is director of the Montana Coal and Iron company and also of the Montana Power company.

Lambros asked that students address the cards to any high school seniors that they know, tell them of MSU, then return them to the ASMSU distributors. ASMSU will mail the cards and pay the postage, he said.

Hungry Horse.—Hungry Horse dam workers will get about $20,000 more a week in their pay checks starting Thursday.

Wage hikes, which average about 7 per cent, will go into effect then, retroactive to Feb. 5.

Common labor will now get at least $1.79 an hour instead of $1.67.

Washington—Both the CIO steelworkers and steel management offered to renew negotiations in the steel wage dispute. The two sides expressed their willingness to bargain after the Supreme Court ruled out the government's seizure of the steel industry, and after the union called a new strike.

The government's decree ordering an immediate halt to steel deliveries for civilian purposes is expected to remain in effect for the duration of the strike. The walkout will cost the nation 300,000 tons of steel a day.

Washington—The Army says General Eisenhower will go on the retired list officially today. Eisenhower caused a surprise yesterday when he asked the army to cut off his $20,000-a-year retirement pay so he could be sure he's free to take part in the political campaign.

Pierre, S. D.—Senator Taft and General Eisenhower will have their last test at the polls before convention time today in the South Dakota primary. They are out to capture the state's 14 GOP delegates.

Long Island, N. Y.—A wildcat strike by AFL machinists has stopped production of Thunderjet fighter-bombers at the Republic Aviation corporation. The union said a picket line around the plant at Farmingdale, Long Island, was thrown up by an "insurgent faction."

Parkersburg, Ia.—A tornado swooped down on a school area near Parkersburg, Ia., last night. It destroyed a school house which had been used as a polling place in today's Iowa primary. The ballot box and all the votes it contained were blown away.

New York—A New York Yankee scout has reportedly offered a University of Wisconsin shortstop $50,000 to sign with the Yankees. The player is Harvey Kuenn of Milwaukee who led the Big Ten in eight departments of play this season.

Joppa, Ill.—A dispute between teamsters and electricians has halted work on a $90 million power station for an atomic energy project at Joppa. Witnesses said fist fights between the workers caused the work stoppage.

Letters to Editor . . Seniors Say "We Were Sold Down the River"

Dear Editor:

The time has arrived for every good senior to confer upon Prof. O. J. Bue, senior advisor, and Bob Smith, senior class president, the honorable applause they so richly deserve: a loud and bitter chorus of disapproval and disgust.

We mention these two because it is they who have "sold us down the river" to an administration which cares little or not at all for the wishes of the seniors. These two, and these alone, should be given the opportunity to face the many disappointed grandparents, sisters, brothers, and friends, who so earnestly desire to see their loved ones graduate, and with a quick tongue explain to them why they didn't get a seat at the commencement exercises.

It is regrettable that we are headed by an administration and by leaders who fail to grasp the significance and meaning of graduation to ourselves and our relatives and friends. It is regrettable, but it is not excusable. We will graduate, we will miss the pleasure of having those dear to us "sitting in the front row and beaming up at us," but with our graduation we will do one more thing. As we walk off the stage and out into the world, we will carry with us the feeling that, somehow, our University did not do us justice in our last moments at MSU.

With such a feeling in our minds, we are sure that when we go out into the world, we will be able and enthusiastic bearers of good will towards our University. Do you agree, Prof. Bue, and you, Pres. Smith?

Disappointedly yours,
William Rainville
Bruce Ross
Earl Simonson

P.S. We realize that too much work would be involved in changing plans, but why wasn't a double graduation planned in the first place? Too much work and preparation, perhaps! Or too little consideration of the wishes of the graduating seniors.

LSA Stages Work Day For Members

Lutheran Students association had a workday for its members Memorial day. According to Ralph Olson, Chicago, Ill., president, the LSA cleaned a tract of forest land near Ovando.

He said that proceeds from this labor will help finance a delegation of MSU students to the annual conference of the Lutheran Student movement at Estes Park, Colo., from Aug. 30 to Sept. 5.

This conference, known as "Ashram" (a word from India meaning "spiritual quest"), was discussed Sunday at the last LSA meeting of the school year. The conference offers outdoor recreation besides leadership training programs, Bible study and seminars.

He said that six or seven students from MSU will probably attend the conference.

He also reported that Normand Olson of Missoula was elected treasurer of the Montana region of the Lutheran Students association of America at a retreat near Helena the weekend before last. At that time, Dick Bolte of Livingston and Olson were succeeded by Ken Viste and Jerry Stensland, both of MSC, as president and vice president, respectively.

Five Montana college LSA groups participated in the retreat. Approximately fifteen MSU students attended, Olson said.

Dancers Stage Jamboree In Polson

The Royaleers exhibited their special dances at a Square Dance Jamboree Saturday night in Polson. Afterwards they had a bonfire picnic on the shores of Flathead lake.

The Royaleers have appeared this year in festivals at Billings and Butte and have performed before a demonstration of television at the Legion hall, on the Danny Lambros Talent Show, and at a district spring meeting of the MSU Alumni association.

They sponsored the winter quarter Miss Photogenic Contest won by Bobbe Hanson of Missoula and also a square dance roundup earlier this quarter. The Polson exhibition will probably be the last that the club will give this school year, Win Hunt, caller, said.

Twenty-two Royaleers and chaperones attended. They were: Ann Bjorkman, Leona, N. J.; Donna Border, East Glacier; Helen Duncan, Honolulu; Ethel and Mary Henderson, Ryegate; Helen Lewis, Boulder; Shirley Pahrman, Marie and JoAnn Richardson, all of Missoula.

Dan Bartsch, Butte; Paul Beckstorm, Eureka; Bob Clary, and Tom Farrington, Missoula; Eddie Gryczan, Cleveland, Ohio; Bob Jasken, Kalispell; Frank Kirschten, Baker; and John Lowell, Sioux Falls, S. D.

Chaperones attending the Polson event were Peggy Ask and Agnes Stoodley, both of the women's PE department.

Pres. Bob Jasken, Kalispell, said yesterday that all Royaleers should try to be in the Student Union tonight by 7:30 for the last meeting of the year. He indicated that the meeting was important.

The Mormon church was founded in 1830 by Joseph Smith in Fayette, N. Y.

Regional Arts Roundup to Include Exhibitions, Lectures, Workshops

This summer, MSU and the Rockefeller Foundation with the assistance of the Montana Institute of the Arts will sponsor the second annual Northern Rocky Mountain Roundup of Regional Arts on the campus.

According to Henry V. Larom, director, the roundup will include exhibitions, lectures and workshops in music, arts and crafts, writing and round and square dances. He said that the roundup will furnish artists and amateurs the opportunity to improve their works and to have acknowledged critics review them. Hobbyists and people interested can obtain instruction in these subjects also, he said.

One of the outstanding figures of the roundup will be Peppino Mangravite, professor and departmental representative of the School of Painting and Sculpture at Columbia University. As a young man, he migrated to this country from his native Italy in 1912. After some study, he became instructor and then director of art departments and schools in the East. His paintings hang in museums and galleries throughout the nation. He is the recipient of many prizes and awards and is listed in the latest Who's Who. He will give lectures and group demonstration and criticisms from July 28-August 2.

Special, intensive, two-week workshops at both elementary and advanced levels will be given in pottery (July 14-26) by the Brainerd Foundation, Helena; enameling of metal (July 21-Aug. 1) by Margaret Craft, form instructor at Indiana University who has exhibited in Boston, Chicago, and Berlin, Germany; and weaving (July 28-Aug. 8) by Kathryn Lyon, of MSU.

Another feature of the Roundup will be an opera workshop July 21-Aug. 8) under the direction of Prof. John Lester of the Mus school. During the last two weeks of rehearsals, visiting musician teachers, and those interested in opera will be invited to receive instruction in the techniques of opera presentation. Two one-act operas will be presented to the public, including Kurt Weill's "Down in the Valley."

From July 24 through to July 27 the Roundup will cooperate with the Missoula Federation of Square Dance clubs in their festival and workshop of round and square dances. Instruction sessions, panel and caller's clinic, will be instructed by Doc Alumbaugh, Temple City, Calif., who will be the master of ceremonies.

New Skyline Athletic Code Up For Official Approval

BY JACK ZYGMOND

The new 12-point athletic code is recommended by the American Council of Education and met with mixed feelings by members of Skyline conference when it was submitted to the council for approval Saturday.

The code follows the general plan laid down by the Education Council last fall for all colleges in the council termed a de-emphasis of sports. Earl Lory, faculty athletic director who with Athletic Director C. C. Hubbard represented Skyline at the conference meeting last week said that the limitation upon Freshman participation in sports and the stress upon maintenance of a "C" average were the two changes in athletic policy. Lory said that for the most part, the committee of representatives from all Skyline schools approved the code formulated by the Education Council. After rewording and rewording they submitted it to the presidents for approval. It was this approval that met with different feelings and may bring about more changes.

President Carl McFarland said, "I support it for the most part." Lory said he held some reservations about the code. "We're not apart, but we think it will be more liberal in regard to room and board during the season." Lory clarified that somewhat that the athletic committee has failed to aid the athlete during the season that he is playing. For instance, if a football player has received a scholarship for the plan proposed by the committee, he would work for a day for his full board during the time he was playing. If he did not participate the rest of the year he would have to earn his full board while he was not competing.

Lory also qualified the point in the proposal that says an athlete maintain a "C" average. Lory said that this does not mean student must present a "C" average, but only that he fulfill a requirement in 36 hours of work. Lory said that if a student took less than three quarters of class work, which is the three quarter load here, he would be required to pass 9 of those hours, and still participate in sports as he maintains a C average at least 36 of those hours.

The twelve-point athletic code recommended by the presidents of Skyline conference is as follows: Admission standards shall be the same for all students alike and be handled through regular channels. Standards must be published in official college publications.

To be eligible for competition a student shall have earned a minimum of 36 quarter credits in the academic year of three quarters or semesters immediately preceding the season. He must have a C average during this period.

A student must have been in college for three quarters or two years except in the case of college transfers, who must put in a year of residence. Such transfers before May 22, 1952, are not affected.

4. Scholarships may be awarded on the basis of demonstrated academic ability if such scholarship is described in the institution's catalog and is available to all students. Grants-in-aid may be awarded on non-preferential basis to athletes but carry definite academic obligation. After the freshman year, grants will be awarded by semesters or quarters and retained only on a cumulative academic average of "C" or better, and may be withdrawn at anytime for "academic or other good and sufficient reasons."

5. Freshmen entering after June, 1952, will be ineligible for varsity competition.

6. Three meals a day and housing will be allowed eligible varsity football and basketball players during the preliminary practice season; thereafter one meal a day to the end of the season.

7. An athlete may accept employment provided he performs useful work, is paid at the prevailing campus rate, works all the time for which he is paid, is given no preferential right over other students and reports his on and off campus work to university officials.

8. Each institution shall release each year to opponent institutions the names of all freshmen and varsity football and basketball squad members with their class standing (for freshmen their senior year in high school, and the nature and amount of financial help each received during the year).

9. Fall practice in football shall begin not before Sept. 1, and the regular season shall end not later than the first Saturday in December. Games may be played later only on approval of a majority vote of the conference. Spring football practice shall be limited to 20 sessions within 30 calendar days. Final action on post-season or bowl games was postponed until after the 1953 NCAA convention, but the conference will be governed by actions taken by the NCAA extra events committee and the NCAA council.

Basketball practice and games are confined to the period Nov. 1 to March 10 except for NCAA sponsored playoffs and tournaments. Baseball practice and games confined to the period March 1 to the end of the spring term except for commencement programs and NCAA sponsored tournaments.

10. Only 10 varsity football and 28 basketball games permitted in a regular season. Freshman teams may play three football and eight basketball games.

11. No member of an athletic staff or other official representative shall solicit attendance at his institution of any prospective student with an offer of financial aid or equivalent inducements. The forms of aid available and conditions under which applications may be made for them can be explained, however. No traveling expenses may be paid any prospective student for a campus visit or a trip with the team.

12. No coach of a member institution may participate in the coaching of all-star high school teams. Member institutions shall deny use of their athletic facilities for the purposes of practice for or staging of all-star high school games. Members of athletic staffs are prohibited from contacting or interviewing contestants in such games while en route to the game, during the game, or while en route home from the game.

MSU Golfers Place Third In Memorial Day Tourney

BY JIM LARCOMBE

Don Welch of Montana came in tied for third in the annual Missoula Country Club Invitational tournament. Entries in the tournament came from as far away as New York and Portland.

The Montana State University golf team, entered as a team in the tournament, was only four strokes away from the winning Missoula Vagabonds. The University linksters managed to finish third in a field of the best golfers in Montana as well as outsiders.

In individual medal play, which was won by Al Mengert of Great Falls Air Base with a score of 204 for the 54 holes, Don Welch of Whitefish was third with a score of 220. Mike Dudik was second in the medal play with a 216. George Sarsfield of Butte, former University player, was tied with Don Welch for third.

The University golf team, which had an excellent won-lost record in regular season play, was only four strokes from winning the tournament. The Missoula Vagabonds had a team total of 909, followed by the Butte Country club with 911, and the University team with 912. On the University team were Dick Hubbard, Lee and Bob Williams, and Don Welch.

Don Welch has compiled a very enviable record in Montana golf circles besides being runner-up in the national Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tournament last year. Hailing from Whitefish, Don Welch went back east last summer and took on the best high school golfers in the country and came out second only to one. Don is an old hand in Montana golf, having

Baseball Team Plays Kalispell Chiefs Tonight

For the Grizzlies, the baseball season is still on today. The club that tied for first in regular Sky-line play, and then went on to lose to Utah in the first round of a play-off, takes on the semi-pro Kalispell Chiefs in a twilight game today at Kalispell. For those with intentions of witnessing the contest, game time is set for 6 p.m.

Hansen to Start

Montana will be going with the intentions of extending their season winning percentage to .667. Last week the Grizzlies defeated the Butte All-Stars 7-2 in what was then thought to be the season finale. The win gave the Grizzlies a 13-7 season record.

Baseball coach, Eddie Chinske indicated that Dick Hansen, the fighthander whose latest performance was a 7-1 win over Gonzaga two weeks ago, will probably start for Montana.

Maybe Without Byrne

Around the infield, the squad will likely remain the same. In the outfield, a possible change may be made in Bobby Byrne's centerfield position. Byrne has left to accept a tryout with the Class B Spokane Indians.

played around the state for the last four or five years.

He was Interscholastic winner in golf for two years prior to his coming to MSU. Welch's performance in the Missoula tournament was all the more remarkable considering the fact that Mengert broke a 20 year old record in winning the tourney, and the former record was equaled by Mike Dudik of New York. Dudik is the New York state amateur champion. Welch was only four strikes away from Dudik.

The University golf team also did exceptionally well in coming in third. The Vagabonds, who won the tournament, were composed of John Barnett, son of the University golf coach; Paul Sechena of Billings, who won the golf derby Saturday afternoon and a well known golfer in the state; Mike Dudik, a former University golfer and New York state champion; and Dr. Allen Wisely of Missoula, who came in with a strong 76 on the last 18 holes to cinch the win for the Vagabonds.

The Butte team which came in second included two former state amateur champs, Gene Jones and George Sarsfield. Shostrom and Quigley of Butte also shot very respectable golf, coming in with 231 and 234 respectively.
